Raw LLM Output

"On July 27, 2026, the user received an email from an external recruiter. The following afternoon, an unauthorized Kingston USB storage drive was connected to the host. The insider used command-line 7-Zip to package intellectual property into an encrypted archive before exfiltrating the data via a web transfer to 198.51.100.45. Finally, the user deleted the source CAD files and local staging directory to cover their tracks."
